The Brisbane Institute of Strengths based Practices and Indian-based NGO Sanghamitra is organising this inaugural International Conference. The programme includes pre and post conference institutes two days before and following the conference.

It aims to create a global interconnectedness between people seeking solutions for their local problems. It promotes a resilience approach as opposed to simply meeting deficits. The Conference does not raise the question as to "what problems do we have?" Instead it raises the question "what strengths do we have which allowed us to remain resilient despite the challenges we face?"

Unprecedented global transformations have occurred in the last two decades of the last century. Some societies are still reeling in their aftermath. There is a true global hunger for principal leadership and collective wisdom that can actively re-engage individuals, groups and communities, in our societies. The search is on for strengths- based practices at local, national and global levels.
